A MAN has been arrested following a Europe-wide operation to track down customers of an internet website selling videos of child sex abuse.

Thames Valley Police revealed on Monday that a 39-year-old man from Bletchley was identified and arrested on September 27. The man, who has not been named, was arrested on suspicion of committing offences relating to the possession, making and distribution of indecent images of children.

IT'S beginning to look a lot like Christmas…

Toad and friends were unveiled at thecentre:mk yesterday as part of the festive display. But there was another special guest who stole the limelight. Full story and pics on page 7.

Man held after European hunt for child sex tapes

It is the latest arrest under Operation Koala, which was initiated by the Child Exploitation and Online Protection (CEOP) Centre in 2006. The operation targeted the sexual abuse of children from a modelling website based in Italy that allowed customers from all over the world to order tailor-made videos depicting children being abused.

In June 2007 the material was passed to CEOP which holds UK responsibility for receiving intelligence and information from overseas on child sexual abuse crimes.

CEOP’s Intelligence Faculty analysed and developed the material and passed details of individual suspects to local police forces including Milton Keynes police, who initiated their own investigation.

Chief executive of the CEOP Jim Gamble said: “Operation Koala uncovered the true meaning of ‘online child abuse’. In this case, the exchanging of images in which real children were subjected to horrific sexual abuse, often to order.

“Yet again we see the technology used by paedophiles to facilitate child abuse now turned against them as a result of coordinated and effective international law enforcement cooperation.”

Three other men were arrested by Thames Valley Police on the same day, at addresses in Oxfordshire, Newbury and Amersham.

So far 38 suspects have been arrested in the UK, with more arrests expected in the near future.

Detective Sergeant Duncan Wynn, from the High Tech Crime Unit, said: “These arrests are significant in the fight against child sex offenders and we, along with CEOP and the 20 other Forces involved, are dedicated to catching these offenders and stopping the abuse of innocent children.”

Bitter row over city centre parking

By Alicia Babaee

A city centre public highway utilised for parking has been acquired by English Partnerships (EP) for development. The government quango has given BP and two other employers at Witan Gate House a chunk of land for its staff to use after it had the public highway stopped up by a district judge.

Barriers stop anyone without an electronic card from gaining entry.

But other central Milton Keynes offices say it has caused havoc for their workforces.

The government quango has given BP and two other employers at Witan Gate House a chunk of land for its staff to use after it had the public highway stopped up by a district judge.

They are not all permanently office-based, they go out and see clients and they can’t park when they get back.

“We’re actually contemplating what to do, whether to move out of the city centre. Our 25-year lease runs out in 2011.”

The council applied to Milton Keynes Magistrates’ Court for a stopping up order to close off the land.

Due to objections the case was heard by a district judge on September 27, and the order was agreed.

A council spokesman said: “Before agreeing to the deal BP and their landlords sought reassurance that there would still be dedicated parking spaces for its staff. The area surrounding Witan Gate House is no longer public highway – however no parking spaces have really been lost to the public, as the vast majority were already being used by BP staff.”

The issue has been highlighted by Urban Eden, an organisation set up to protect Milton Keynes during its redevelopment.

BP press officer Sheila Williams said: “BP is just one of three companies in the building and the proposed car parking spaces are to be shared among staff from the three building tenants.

“For clarification, not all spaces around Witan Gate House are currently used by BP employees, they are also used by people employed in other buildings around the area.”

A spokesman for English Partnerships said: “Plenty of alternative spaces have already been made available by English Partnerships around the site.

“On a typical weekday there are still over 360 unused standard rate spaces and over 30 premium spaces unused in the B3 block, for the public to use. English Partnerships is working with Milton Keynes Council to procure a new permanent 320 space underground car park on B4 block which should be available in about two years.”

Mr Davis added: “They’ve got to do something about car parking.

“What they should have done is ensured developers put in underground parking like in other places.

“Most of the land marked for development and bounded by Avebury Boulevard and Witan Gate, Grafton Gate and Childs Way was already owned by EP prior to the order.”

 Reporter faces misconduct charges

FOUR people have been charged following an investigation by Thames Valley Police and Hertfordshire Constabulary into allegations that sensitive information has been leaked to the media and other parties.

On Monday morning officers from Thames Valley Police’s Professional Standards Department charged four people in connection with misconduct in a public office.

Ex-Thames Valley Police officer Jonathan Mark Kearney, 48, from Wadworth Holme, Middleton, was charged at Banbury police station on Monday.

His son, Harry Mark Kearney, a 20-year-old soldier from Waterbeach Barracks in Cambridgeshire, has also been charged with one count of aiding, abetting, counselling and procuring misconduct in a public office.

He was also charged with possession of a Class A drug.

MK Citizen reporter Sally Murrey, 49, of Whipsnade Road, Kestonwood in Bedfordshire, has been charged with three offences of aiding and abetting misconduct in a public office.

Derek Frank Webb, 53, of Springfield Crescent in Harpenden, Hertfordshire, was charged with five offences of aiding and abetting misconduct in a public office.

He was also charged with possession of a Class A drug.

Glamourpuss WAGs blag club goodies

BY ALICIA BABAE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

A CITY nightclub has launched a WAG card for the city’s most glamorous women.

The limited edition luminous pink card – of which only a limited number have been made – are being given out by invitation only at Ocean.

Anyone who manages to get one will enjoy VIP status, queue jump and free entry on any night of the week – for four people.

The management team is convinced that Milton Keynes has its fair share of gorgeous girls who would make good WAG material.

The term WAG was coined during the World Cup and refers to footballers’ wives and girlfriends. The most famous wags include David Beckham’s wife Victoria Beckham, Wayne Rooney’s fiancée Coleen McLoughlin and Ashley Cole’s wife Girls Aloud star Cheryl Cole.

But getting your hands on a WAG card isn’t easy. Women who think they’ve got what it takes are asked to send a photo of themselves to the club. Management will then take their pick from all the photos received.

Manager Mark Molton said: “The glamorous people, the glamorati, will get them by invite if we think they’re good enough.

“We’re fed up seeing the papers full of WAGs, we think there’s enough glamour locally. So we’re picking Milton Keynes’ WAGs.”

He said: “There were gold, silver, glittery cards, and she chose the bright pink one.

“So that’s the one we went for.”

“And everyone who sees it goes ‘Wow’.”

The card is the brainchild of Milton Keynes project manager Lucy Herlhy, but five other branches of Oceana are jumping on the bandwagon and adopting the WAG card too.

Selection will take place over the month of November.

Golf day ruckus hours after star-studded gala

FOUR people have appeared in court after a man was found badly injured at Woburn Golf and Country Club.

Police were called to the golf club on Thursday after receiving reports that a man suffering from injuries had walked inside the club house shortly after 9.15pm.

Just hours earlier the club had hosted a golf day and gala dinner for England One-Day Cricket captain Paul Collingwood.

Wives and businessmen were celebrating his testimonial alongside cricketers including Michael Vaughan and Andrew Strauss, ex-footballer Ray Wilkins and guest speaker Dennis Taylor but none of the guests witnessed the incident.

Between 2am and 5am on Friday police arrested four suspects who were later charged with wounding with intent.

All four defendants were remanded and will appear at Aylesbury Crown Court on Friday.

It’s no Wokingham, but it’s better than Chesterfield

A SURVEY has put Milton Keynes 17th in a list of the best places to live, based on quality of life.

The city has dropped 32 places since last year when it ranked 15th.

The survey says quality of life is better in places such as Bedford, Aylesbury Vale, Buckinghamshire and Bracknell in Essex than it is here.

Factors measured include employment rate, number of rooms in the average house, traffic rates, burglary rate, rainfall, sunshine, and life expectancy.

Council leader Isobel McCall said: “It is obviously judged on how wealthy an area is, looking at house prices and income.

“I would say that clearly there are other things in life, and actual- ly on the whole most people in Milton Keynes have a very good quality of life.

“Other surveys have put us on top. There are very high satisfac tion levels with the people who live here, and that’s what’s im portant to me.”

Milton Keynes has an employment rate of 77 per cent, compared with 80.6 per cent for top spot Wokingham and 82.1 per cent for second place South Buckinghamshire.

The average annual weekly earnings here are £553, and the burglary rate is 44 per 1,000 popula tion.

“Wokingham also has good schools and the weather is better than average.

Nursery closure

SIR – May I, on behalf of the parents whose children attended Primary Steps Nursery in Bletchley, thank the staff there for dedication beyond the call of duty. When the company that owned the nursery went into administration, staff and parents were given just a week’s notice before the nursery closed.

Staff face a bleak Christmas, with the sudden loss of their jobs and no guarantee of redundancy pay. Like everyone else, they have mortgages to pay and families to support. No one would have blamed them if they had shut the nursery immediately, but Susan Coleman and her team worked on through the last week, determined that the children who attended the nursery would not suffer any more than was necessary.

Anyone who attended the Big Gnome Party three last week would have been left in no doubt about just what a special place Primary Steps Nursery was. The decision to shut Primary Steps at such short notice is appalling.

It is a case of a London-based big business making a decision without regard to its impact across the Bletchley community.

It leaves working parents such as myself desperately seeking childcare, and with little opportunity to settle our children into new nurseries before leaving them to return to work. There is no guarantee that we will be able to reclaim our deposits or any overpaid fees from the parent company.

Nurseries are more than just a business – they are a vital part of the local communities that they serve and a lifeline for hardworking parents.

The staff at Primary Steps played a vital role in the Bletchley community, and it is sad to lose them the best of luck in the future.

Wind farm woes

SIR – At last!

A long pro-wind farm letter (R Barfoot) that recognises that not all proposals are equal and that there should be sensible planning rules – amongst other things to protect residents. If the wind industry, the Government and the green lobby did not insist on simply denying the worst impacts of wind farms and ignoring inconvenient expert advice, then perhaps we would see proposals that respected the interests of local communities and its local environment. Such proposals would generate little opposition and result in rapid approval and development of sites.

Two inconvenient truths from experts that relate to the local proposals are:

1. Typical wind speeds mean that we should not be sitting wind farms from Lincolnshire down to the Thames estuary, across to Hertfordshire and back up the central spine of England to Lincolnshire.

2. Large turbines should not be sited near homes of avoiding noise problems. When people really find out about these giant windmills, they are shocked.

Taking time to visit a wind farm after noise complaints, US Senator John Echelberger said: “Although I have been given a lot of information about these things, I was startled at their size.”

There needs to be more discussion on the placement of these structures and their effect not only on the environment but on the people who live close by. I’m sure the property values of the immediate area have been negatively affected.

Large-scale wind farms are not the only option – they are just the only option that makes large profits for big business. Home terrorists may be ineffective, but I am very hopeful about the prospects for mid-scale, vertical axis turbines such as the one approved at Caroline Hasselt School in Milton Keynes.

These turbines are designed to operate in our lower wind speeds and are much smaller than the giants proposed for Perrow End and Nun Wood.

Because of this and the fact that they are quiet by design, there are thousands of potential sites for them – including mini-wind farms on the roofs of car parks and office blocks where they would not even be noticed.

We can generate electricity from wind without having to destroy our countryside and the living environment of local residents, so why not pursue acceptable solutions instead of trying to force unacceptable ones on unsurprisingly unwilling residents?

Thanks for the spotlight

SIR – RE: Spotlight on Bletchley Office – Serpentine Court, Bletchley.

Thank you for the really positive article about Spotlight on Bletchley in your last issue.

With the other feature articles you have included about the Lakes Estate, you are managing to reflect this improving and lively community environment.

Spotlight would not be there serving the Lakes estate and wider Bletchley residents without the support and contribution from Bletchley and Fenny Stratford Town Council.

Its vision and ongoing commitment have been an essential part of the new Spotlight on Bletchley Community Partnership and we wish to record our thanks and those of the beneficiaries of the Spotlight facility.

Queen happy to visit but don’t bank on city status

THE Queen has told MK NEWS she is looking forward to visiting Milton Keynes.

This newspaper wrote an open letter to Her Majesty on behalf of the people of Milton Keynes welcoming the news of her visit on November 29 and calling on her to finally grant city status.

In a reply from Buckingham Palace received on Thursday, The Queen’s assistant private secretary, Doug King, wrote: ‘The Queen has asked me to thank you for your letter.

‘I must say that grants of city status are only made following a national competition, usually towards significant Royal anniversaries, and there are no plans to hold such a competition in the immediate future.

‘I am sorry to send you a disappointing reply but Her Majesty is very much looking forward to visiting Milton Keynes and has asked me to thank you for your letter.

‘Meanwhile councilors discussed the cost of the royal visit at a meeting of the Cabinet last night.

The agenda recommended £40,000 be set aside for the visit, from the Strategic Projects Fund.

Milton Keynes Council has designed a programme of events for the day which it says will: ‘portray the development of Milton Keynes and its future ambitions; the mix of cultures evident in the town; the importance of the voluntary and community groups in promoting community development; and the youthful population of the town.’

The council has confirmed that the visit will last two hours and include the openings of the Hub, the stadiummk and the new St John’s Ambulance Centre at Greenleys.

The stadium mk event is shaping up to be the show piece, with nearly 8,000 schoolchildren and hundreds of musicians and choristers involved.

It will include an exhibition to demonstrate the range of the home-grown voluntary sector.

A second exhibition at the Ramada Encore Hotel will showcase the development of Milton Keynes and the vision for the future.

Top events planners have been hired to coordinate the event including Executive Producer Gavin Anderson.

Artistic Director Michael Birch has already visited 60 schools to gather support from children and teachers for the stadium event.

The council will seek sponsorship and income opportunities to reduce strain on the public purse and stated that £40,000 would prevent the costs falling on the tax payer.

It hailed the event as “a major landmark in the development and national profile of the city.”

Green spaces will grow for everyone’s benefit

By anybody’s standards we’re doing a good job, but there’s still plenty more for us to do and areas we can improve. We’ve developed a Green Estate Strategy, essentially a ten year vision and three year action plan to keep us on track. What is more, we’re striving constantly to raise our standards further, provide more facilities and interest for park users, increase biodiversity, raise awareness and understanding of the parks and respond positively to the changing needs of a rapidly growing city.

It seems common sense, and thankfully most of the city’s planners and developers agree, that these new parks will be handed over to The Parks Trust to manage along with our existing 4,500 acres of woodland, lakes, parks and grid road landscapes.

This is the best way to ensure they’ll be kept in good condition forever without being a burden to the taxpayer. As the Trust is entirely independent of the council and self-financing, through our commercial property and investments, we’re able to maintain our land at no cost to Milton Keynes’ residents and remain focused solely on maintaining and creating inspirational landscapes for everyone to enjoy.

We not only care for and protect the city’s green spaces, but enhance their interest and value for people and wildlife wherever we have the opportunity. We organise over 200 events each year, including community events, charity fundraising events and guided walks. Almost 200 volunteers help us to look after the city’s parks and wildlife and we have a dedicated education team working to introduce school children to the wonder of nature and the city around them.

Our occasional series of columns continues this week with the thoughts of Park Trust chief executive David Foster.

Our unique approach to landscape management, our expertise and experience is being used to help design and create the new green spaces in Milton Keynes. New parks will be connected up to our existing parks and footpath networks.

Winter wonderland

IT'S officially Christmas at the centre:mk.

Father Christmas and his reindeer made an early appearance too to thrill the crowds young and old.
From the end of October 2007, the ability to create an Enduring Power of Attorney will be banished for ever.

From the 1st October 2007 the Enduring Power of Attorney (EPA) has been replaced with a revised type of power called a Lasting Power of Attorney (LPA). However, EPAs made prior to 1 October will continue to be valid.

The LPA has now replaced the EPA as one of the most important legal protection mechanisms for your future. Indeed having an LPA in place is just as important as making a Will because it affects you during your lifetime. The benefit of the LPA is that it will allow you and your family the certainty of knowing who will deal with your affairs and personal welfare if you become incapable of making decisions about these things yourself. Moreover, you will have the comfort of knowing that the Attorney dealing with your affairs is the person of your choice and not someone whom the Court chooses to appoint on your behalf.

Unlike the EPA, an LPA will need to be registered with the Court of Protection before it may be used by your Attorney(s). A person can make two types of LPA, one dealing with financial matters which enables your Attorney to act on your behalf in relation to your financial affairs (as do EPAs) and one concerning personal welfare.

A Property and Affairs Lasting Power of Attorney allows you to plan ahead by choosing one or more people to make decisions on your behalf regarding your property and financial affairs.

You can appoint a property and affairs Attorney to manage your finances and property whilst you still have capacity as well as when you lack capacity. For example, it may be easier for you to give someone the power to carry out tasks such as paying your bills if you find it difficult to get about. Please note that the document has to be registered before it can be used.

A Personal Welfare Lasting Power of Attorney allows you to plan ahead by choosing one or more people to make decisions on your behalf regarding your personal healthcare and welfare. As you can see the protection offered by an LPA can be invaluable. Please contact us today to see how we can help.

Who will deal with your affairs and welfare if you can’t? Don’t lose your right to choose your Attorney by waiting until its too late.
A SCHOOL chef was flame-grilled in the Dragons’ Den after trying to sell his music business.

Amateur RnB vocalist Eddie Anderson, of Albert Street, Bletchley, bravely faced businessmen on BBC 2’s hit programme, screened last Tuesday night.

The show is designed for entrepreneurs to present their product in an effort to win thousands of pounds of investment from the Dragons.

Eddie originally reinvented a compilation of traditional nursery rhymes for his two-year-old son but word of his music spread from Shenley Brook End school, where he works as a chef.

Copies of the album, RnB Nursery Rhymes, sold out on the singer’s website after it proved to be popular with parents across Milton Keynes.

Eddie performed his RnB version of ‘Miss Polly Had A Dolly’ but it was not enough to win over the Dragons.

One said: “I like the concept but you’re not going to make a living from it.”

After the show, Eddie, 32, said: “It was a good experience.

“I knew my figures and I was confident enough so I just did my thing.

“I had them all standing up in a line, clapping along to ‘If You’re Happy and You Know It’!

BY LAURA HANNAM

The son of an 89-year-old who hanged herself believes she would still be alive if euthanasia was legal.

He said his mother took her life as she was anxious she would become a burden on the family.

Violet Brooks, known by her middle name Barbara, was found in the communal lounge of her sheltered accommodation in Fenny Stratford by her grandson on May 13.

She died in the early morning at Durrans House, Church Street after she hanged herself from a fire door, using the cord from her purple dressing gown.

During the inquest into her death held in Milton Keynes, Coroner Rodney Corner concluded: "I believe she reached the time in her own mind where she didn't want to go on. This was a clear and unequivocal statement of how she wanted to do things."

Mrs Brooks' family said she was a bubbly, happy person who was the life and soul of any family gathering.

"She wanted to be in control." "I believe if euthanasia was legal in this country she would still be alive today," said this was one of her biggest concerns.

Dr Abdul Razzak, consultant psychiatrist who treated Mrs Brooks, said: "Barbara was a lovely lady. She was a gifted lady, she did a lot of craft work. I became very fond of her."

"She always said she didn't want to be a vegetable," he said. "She certainly didn't want to be a burden on the family."

"Stage she should be put down."

"I think she reached the time in her own mind where she didn't want to go on. This was a clear and unequivocal statement of how she wanted to do things."

"My mother was that she had an incredible fear of not being able to make the decision. She got any older she may not be able to make the decision."

"If euthanasia was legal I believe that she would have made that request and, up until then she would have had a fairly stable life as she would have known she would have been able to make that decision."

Coroner Rodney Corner concluded: "I believe she thought if she got any older she may not be able to make the decision. I think she reached the time in her own mind where she didn't want to go on."

"She was a party animal, it was almost embarrassing really." Lynn Maudsley, resident of Durrans House, said: "Barbara was a lovely lady. She was a gifted lady, she did a lot of craft work."

Charity’s inventive way to fundraise

Can you grow £50 to £50,000?

The ExtraCare Charitable Trust is putting the fun back into fundraising, running a unique challenge which can be enjoyed right here in MK – bankers, bakers, school kids and solicitors can all join in.

The charity, which is fundraising for older people across the city is offering £50 to 50 organisations in Milton Keynes, with the challenge of growing the money to see who makes the most.

Sponsored by NatWest Bank, the challenge offers an exciting mystery prize for the most ingenious fundraising plan and a fabulous trophy, donated by Arthur Price of England for the winning sum raised.

MK NEWS is offering a special prize to the school which brings in the most money from the challenge.

Proceeds will help fund health and leisure facilities at ExtraCare’s new Lovat Fields Village which is already offering life-changing opportunities for over 500 older people across the city.

The competition is free to enter and team numbers can be any size.

Only one £50 ‘stake’ per organisation. The £50 and monies raised has to be returned to The ExtraCare Charitable Trust at the end of the competition.

The challenge runs from January 1 to March 28, 2008. All entries have to be in by December 7.

The ExtraCare’s Ann Allen says the challenge brings the community together for its older citizens: “Whether you have a dressing up day at work or school, try a sponsored hitch to Barcelona, go scuba diving with sharks, or donate your Christmas fund to the cause, the money will be a real boost for older, isolated people cross the city.

“As long as it’s legal – you can raise it – and the fun is seeing who can raise the most!”

To spur on your entry, MK NEWS is giving away free tickets for the ‘drive of your life’ at MK’s Daytona Karting Circuit. A number of karting tickets will be given to the first FOUR teams entering the Challenge.

Karting tickets are only available to challenge participants over the age of 16. Winning entries under that age will receive tickets for an activity at Xscape.

An inquest has been opened into the death of a van driver who was killed when his vehicle crashed into a builders merchants.

Carmino Colucci, 47, of Brooklands Road, Bletchley, was driving a Cory Environmental rubbish van when it hit the Travis Perkins building on Simpson Road, Fenny Stratford, at 7.15am on Thursday October 25.

The inquest, held last Wednesday (October 31), heard that Mr Colucci suffered some kind of medical event and fell sideways across the passenger seat.

Two fire crews attended from Bletchley and Great Holm to cut Mr Colucci free while paramedics treated him.

However, Mr Colucci was pronounced dead at Milton Keynes Hospital later that day.

A post mortem has taken place to establish whether Mr Colucci was killed by a heart attack or the impact of the collision. A passenger was also taken to hospital, suffering from minor injuries.

Mr Colucci was born in a small town near Naples, Italy, and moved to Milton Keynes nearly 40 years ago when he was seven.

He is survived by his mother, two sisters, ex-wife and eight-year-old son.

The inquest was adjourned until February.

Simon McCarthy (pictured), from Langford, Bedfordshire, was celebrating his 35th birthday at Oceana, at the Xscape in the city centre, before he became involved in an altercation which started inside the club.

Police officers were called to the nightclub at about 3am on Saturday, February 24, following reports that Mr McCarthy had stopped breathing.

The officers tried to resuscitate him until paramedics arrived and he was taken to Milton Keynes hospital, where he was pronounced dead an hour later.

One of the men was cleared earlier this year and the rest have now been told they do not need to return to Milton Keynes Police Station and their bail has been cancelled.

Police said the criminal investigation has been concluded but an inquest into Mr McCarthy’s death is due to take place at the end of the month.

IMAGINE hearing a ringing noise that fills your head every time you wake up and could last all day.

This is what a man from Bletchley suffers from and he is called for more funding to help treat the condition.

Tony Antoniou-Savva, 42, began hearing a buzzing noise in his ears two years ago and was diagnosed with Tinnitus.

The self-employed businessman from Park Gardens, has sometimes been reduced to tears by the symptoms.

Although there are good days when he doesn’t hear the buzzing until it is time to sleep, Tinnitus has changed Mr Savva’s life.

“I often get very, very depressed. I even took to drinking heavily just to knock myself out so I could sleep,” he said.

“I’ve become more snappy, argumentative and very moody.

“When I’ve got Tinnitus, I can’t be bothered with anything. I’ve read stories of people who have committed suicide as a result of Tinnitus, and I can relate to that. I know how they felt. Mr Savva, who owns a second hand shop in Bletchley, has tried everything to relieve the symptoms including hearing aids, white noise generators, an electric bed, a mouth guard, reflexology, acupuncture and hypnotherapy.

“Nothing has worked but he hasn’t given up hope for treatment, believing that further research could lead to a cure.

“Not enough people know about it, although a surprising number of people seem to be suffering from Tinnitus,” he said.

“My mum has it, two of my uncles have it and one of my delivery guys has it as well.

“And I didn’t even know till I got Tinnitus and started talking to people about it.

“Even the doctors and nurses don’t seem to know a lot about it,” he added.

“There should be much more research to find treatments for Tinnitus.

“It is estimated that Tinnitus affects over 4.7 million people in the UK.

To find out more about the condition visit www.tinnitus-research.org or call 0115 925 4065.

LAPTOPS are being handed out to pupils from Bletchley as part of an initiative to bridge the city's digital divide.

The ground-breaking scheme is designed to give the pupils and their families internet access from home via the wireless laptops. It is hoped it will improve educational achievement by allowing youngsters to improve their skills at home, while family members will be able to participate in adult learning courses in ICT.

Each term up to 60 pupils will be selected to participate in the scheme, funded by Milton Keynes Local Authority.

At the end of the term the equipment will be distributed to a different set of pupils. It is one of the first such projects in the country bringing high-speed broadband services to students using a WiMAX system which is a long range form of wireless transmission.

Leon School & Sports College on the Lakes Estate has been working in partnership with Knowles Nursery. Infant and Junior schools, Eaton Mill Primary, Drayton Park Primary and Water Hall Primary, to initiate the scheme.

Gary Wakefield, deputy head at Leon School and Sports College, said: “We have truly demonstrated what is possible when schools work as a partnership and today's launch allows us to see the positive outcomes.

“We are concerned about the digital divide that exists in Milton Keynes and this project is helping to promote opportunities for learning that might not have previously existed.”

ConnectMK Ltd has agreed to provide the first line of support while FREEDOM4 – formerly Pipex wireless – has agreed to supply the WiMAX receiving technology to deliver the broadband service.

Steven Jewell, managing director of ConnectMK Ltd and head of IT and E-government for MK Council, said: “This is a truly exciting initiative and we are really pleased that these organisations and schools have been able to come together to make it happen.

Nightclub brawl
A 27-year-old man was seriously injured during a fight outside a city centre club.

Police were called to reports of a fight near the Sound Lounge, in Lloyds Court, at 3am on Friday, but the fight was over before they arrived and no one was arrested.

Thirty minutes later a man was discovered unconscious on a bridge over the HS, leading to Conningbrook.

The police were called and the victim was rushed to Milton Keynes Hospital suffering from life-threatening injuries.

Scenes of crime officer carried out a forensic examination of the area on Friday morning.

Albert Hall date for singers
MILTON Keynes Music Service is co-ordinating a massed choir of more than 400 students from Milton Keynes’ primary schools to perform at the Albert Hall.

The students will perform on Monday as part of the Schools’ Prom organised by Music For Youth. They have been rehearsing ‘Kofi’s Journey’, a specially commissioned piece of music about slavery written by Alan Simmons and which was originally performed at this year’s Primary Music Festival at Milton Keynes Theatre, organised by Milton Keynes Music Service.

Cop shop closed
WOLVERTON police station will be closed to visitors for a month.

The front desk will be closed from Monday, November 12, to allow for essential refurbishment work.

It will remain closed for a minimum of four weeks and all visitors are advised to use the stations at Milton Keynes, Bletchley or Newport.

Blanc chooses MK for his seventh brasserie

BY ROB GIBSON

A TOP French brasserie and bar is set to open in the city centre at the end of the month.

Celebrated chef Raymond Blanc OBE will launch his seventh Brasserie Blanc, at The Hub on November 28.

The 120-cover brasserie, in the Central Piazza at Chelsea House, Avebury Boulevard, will have a warm, welcoming, and stylish interior with banquette seating and terrace tables outside in the warmer months.

It will include Raymond Blanc’s first ‘Maman Blanc’ shop, offering a wide range of products including high-quality prepared dishes for customers to take home.

Everything will be made on site, including the freshly-baked bread, croissants, patisserie and viennoiserie that will also feature on the breakfast/brunch menu. In the evening the shop will transform into a private dining room, seating up to 12 guests.

Raymond Blanc is widely acknowledged as one of the world’s finest chefs and has just completed the critically acclaimed BBC television series ‘The Restaurant’.

Raymond said: “Milton Keynes is a wonderful example of a new town with a thriving business community. “In an area so rich in high quality producers and growers, I am very keen to add ingredients of local provenance to my menu.”

The menu offers a selection of classic and modern French dishes inspired by childhood meals cooked by his mother, including crispy St Louis’ goats cheese parcel, tomato chutney, grilled haddock, soft poached egg, mustard butter sauce and orange and sultana rice pudding, poached pear, Grand Marnier Sauce.

The Brasserie Blanc team are currently meeting with local suppliers around the county to add a Buckinghamshire flavoured menu to the menu.

The Dine with Wine menu offers a two course lunch or dinner – £13.50 lunch/£15 dinner – and includes a glass of wine.

The Brasserie will be open from 10am to 10pm for breakfast, brunch, lunch and dinner.

TWO housing firms have been fined after fly-posting in Milton Keynes.

Persimmon Homes and Bloor Homes were convicted of the offences at Milton Keynes Magistrates’ Court last Friday.

Council officers found signs by Persimmon Homes, based at Waterside Road in Northampton, spread across eight locations on roundabouts and lampposts, on March 30.

Juliette Halka, for the company, said: “This was an isolated incident and came about because of an inexperienced sales manager.

But magistrates had little sympathy, telling the company they should know the regulations, before handing them fines and costs totalling £9,600.

The council also took legal action against Bloor Homes, whose fines were also reduced following an early guilty plea.

On March 15 it was reported to the Safer Communities Unit (SCU) that a number of signs, advertising Bloor Homes’ Treetops’ development in Wolverton had been put up on Queen Eleanor Street, Stony Stratford, and on Stratford Road, Wolverton Mill.

Eight signs were found in total and Bloor Homes were fined a total £1,800 for each offence of fly-posting, equalling a total of £12,600 plus more than £700 in costs.
School’s music lesson doubles up as history

THE city orchestra has been entertaining children as part of Black History Month.
Youngsters at Moorlands Family Centre and First School in Beanihil played African percussion instruments and were treated to magical tales from local storyteller and artist Yaw Agyeman, originally from Ghana.

Milton Keynes City Orchestra organised the community-based education programme with support from the Local Network Fund which is administered by the Milton Keynes Community Foundation.
Organiser Jackie Allen said: “Our outreach work in Milton Keynes is largely unheard of and yet we have been able to bring live music making to every level within the community. “We work hard to identify the most needy sectors of the community, to bring the music closer to everyday situations in addition to the loyal and wonderful following of established patrons, music lovers and theatre goers.”

Kids are the key to recycling boom

Recycling rates have doubled on many of the city’s housing estates, thanks to a campaign to educate parents through their children about the need to cut waste going to landfill.

Over the past year a dedicated team of recycling officers from Milton Keynes Council have been taking part in a whole range of initiatives from attending exhibitions to knocking on doors and sending out guides to explain to residents how to recycle.

One initiative that is proving to be successful is visits to the Materials Recycling Facility at Wolverton by schools located in areas where recycling uptake is low.

The idea is to educate the young about the benefits of recycling in the hope the children will take this green message home to their parents.

The Lakes estate – has seen uptake from just five per cent in 2006 in more than ten per cent today.

While other areas with previously poor recycling take-up rates, such as Eaglestone, are up from 15 per cent to 27 per cent, and Conithburrow, up from 15 per cent to 27 per cent, are also getting the waste reduction message.

Council waste education officer Holly Mills is attributing this success to the council’s initiative to assist schools with their transport costs.

She said: “Many of the schools in the low recycling areas had never visited the recycling facility due the additional costs of transport for days out, which as every parent knows can quickly add up. The children we really needed to reach with our education programme were being excluded.”

“It is really encouraging to see that the enthusiasm the children have for environmental issues when they visit us, is being put into practice once they get home.”

Other education initiatives include:

- Cash for trash – reward scheme for good recyclers
- Kangaroo runs – extra special collections organised in targeted areas
- Recycling champions – scheme to urge non-recyclers to recycle
- Free recycling guides available to residents.

Cllr Douglas McCall, cabinet member responsible for environment, said: “Our whole approach to recycling is being driven by education.”

“By focusing our attention on areas that are struggling to understand the need to recycle we hope to improve the city’s recycling rates even further.”

“Residents need to understand that it costs them financially if they don’t recycle. On average each household in Milton Keynes pays over £25 each in landfill tax alone and this will increase by over £7 next year.”

Audit declares police deliver value for money

POLICING in Milton Keynes provides good value for money according to an independent audit.

Thames Valley Police Authority received the highest rating for its use of resources after the Audit Commission assessed the Authority’s arrangements for managing resources during 2006/07.

The Authority is made up of local people, magistrates and councillors who oversee the management of Thames Valley Police Force.

It was given an overall score of four, meaning it performed well above minimum requirements.

Thames Valley Police Authority Chair Christine Weston said: “This underlines that policing in Thames Valley is good value for money and the authority is committed to ensuring that this continues to be the case in the future.”

“Our rating reflects the hard work of all those responsible for the finances of Thames Valley Police Authority and I would like to thank them for their hard work throughout the year.”

The Authority was rated in five different areas - value for money, financial management, financial reporting, internal control and financial standing.

It scored a maximum score for financial reporting and financial standing and three for financial management, internal control and value for money.

The Authority is responsible for maintaining an efficient and effective police service, approving and monitoring the annual police budget and setting the police element of the council tax, as well as appointing the Chief Constable, Deputy Chief Constable and Assistant Chief Constables.

Now clarity costs less

The new range of ‘advance’ digital hearing aids only at Specsavers, from £495 a pair

The UK’s biggest retailer of hearing aids now has an even bigger range of digital hearing aids that offer remarkable value for money. While a pair of our most advanced state of the art hearing aids costs £1,895 and provides an amazing specification for £1,895, there’s one that’s right for you.

The children in the low recycling areas had never visited the recycling facility due to the additional costs of transport for days out, which as every parent knows can quickly add up. The children we really needed to reach with our education programme were being excluded.

It is really encouraging to see that the enthusiasm the children have for environmental issues when they visit us, is being put into practice once they get home.

Other education initiatives include:

- Cash for trash – reward scheme for good recyclers
- Kangaroo runs – extra special collections organised in targeted areas
- Recycling champions – scheme to urge non-recyclers to recycle
- Free recycling guides available to residents.

Sowing the Seeds for Success Conference
A musician has set his sights on becoming the first city artist to enter the UK's official urban chart.

Timotheus Lawson, known as F-Tizzle, is hoping his RnB single titled 'Can't Make That Choice' will cut the mustard. The song – about being stuck between two girls – is the first track on his second album.

The video was recorded at Nexus nightclub at The Point in July this year. The venue was converted into a restaurant set for the £10,000 budget video.

Now 19-year-old F-Tizzle is calling on his fellow city residents to get the tune into the charts by texting vote number 654 to 81700. He said: "The video is out now and it’s been accepted for both major UK TV networks Channel U and MTV Base, so all my hard work has paid off and I’m happy. "Although this is a big step the hard work has only just begun, because in order to enter the chart the video needs lots of votes."

If I enter the chart I will be the first MK artist to enter the official UK urban chart and it would be quite a big thing for MK music."

The up and coming star recently recorded a single with Fame Academy winner David Sneddon (pictured with F-Tizzle, above) for the same album, titled 'Re-Introduction'.

The pair recorded the single – titled 'A Different Time' – at a studio on Portland Drive, Willen. F-Tizzle added of his new single: "It’s a real situation people get in. "I’ve kind of been in it, not cheating but when you’re with one girl and you miss another."

F-Tizzle was first noticed by top bods in the music industry when he made the backing beat to a track, Singalong, made famous by Crazy Titchs, a well-respected underground artist. He has toured schools around Milton Keynes and performed on BBC 1xtra as well as being playlisted on Radio One on numerous occasions.

MK-based world charity celebrates anniversary

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

WORLD Vision is celebrating 25 successful years in the city it calls home. The charity will hold a special service of thanksgiving and commitment to celebrate a quarter of a century in the UK. Staff and supporters of the Christian organisation will gather at Christ the Cornerstone church on Saturday November 10 to recognise how much has been achieved.

When it opened its first office in London in 1982, a dozen committed workers joined the global World Vision partnership and now more than 200 staff work in its headquarters at Fox Milne. An international aid and development agency, World Vision now has more than 120,000 supporters.

It will celebrate its increasing impact on global poverty reduction music and speeches by representatives from World Vision India and the Evangelical Alliance. Deputy chief executive Justin Byworth said: “Much has been achieved over the past 25 years. Today there are more children in school, more small businesses up and running and better informed communities in developing countries thanks to the enduring support of the UK public.” The organisation is world-renowned for its efforts during disasters such as the 1984 Ethiopia Famine and the Boxing Day Tsunami in 2005.

World Vision’s mission statement is to amplify the voice of the marginalised to those in power and work alongside poor communities as they build a more sustainable secure future.

It has launched the 24 Hour Famine, pioneered the Alternative Gift Catalogue and created huge support for the Make Poverty History campaign.

Justin Byworth, who has worked for World Vision for 20 years, said: “We join with churches, schools, local people and governments to fight poverty and its causes. “It is by connecting people from all over the world that we create real lasting change.”

TWO people have been caught and fined for fly-tipping.

City magistrates heard that Lisa Banks, of Daniels Welch, Coffee Hall, was caught on CCTV fly-tipping.

Checks showed that Banks driver of a Fiat Punto was spotted leaving a bag of rubbish next to a recycling bin in Duncombe Street, Bletchley, in April.

She was sent a fixed penalty notice for £75 but despite receiving a reminder she failed to pay and on Friday she was fined £120 and ordered to pay costs of £200 at Milton Keynes Magistrates’ Court, after pleading guilty.

The Safer Communities Unit (SCU) also provided evidence against Keith Doolan, of Bryony Place, Conniburrow, who repeatedly put out black bin bags days before the collection was due.

Neighbours complained about refuse being put out early in the area.

Cory Environmental waster services and council officers found a black bin bag which had been put outside five days before the next Wednesday collection.

They found correspondence with Mr Doolan’s name and address on it but he ignored their warnings when they contacted him.

This time a Fixed Penalty Notice of £100 was issued for failing to produce household waste as prescribed by the local authority.

But he did not pay and was prosecuted under the Environmental Protection act 1990. Magistrates fined him £200 and ordered to pay more than £500 in costs.

SCU manager Pete Roberts said: “There’s no excuse for people to not know which day their rubbish is going to be collected.

“Putting your rubbish out early is an offence, pure and simple. Not only is it unsightly, but it also encourages others to behave in an anti-social manner and poses an environmental health risk.”

A DOCTOR at Milton Keynes Hospital has been praised for cutting waiting times after developing a new quick service for cancer patients.

Dr Ravi Madhotra, consultant gastroenterologist, has been shortlisted for a Strategic Health Authority award after introducing a system that refers patients directly from their GP to the hospital for an endoscopy, a test that looks inside the body by using a long flexible tube that can be swallowed.

The Gastroenterologist cancer team, which deals with digestive related cancers such as stomach and pancreas, has created a patient information form for GPs to speed up referrals.

It delivers the fastest ever access to NHS hospital diagnostics for cancer patients in Milton Keynes.

Patient results are now made available on the day so that those with cancer are treated more quickly.

Prior to the rapid access service patients were referred by their GP to the hospital, to be assessed in clinic before being referred for an endoscopy.

Dr Madhotra said: “The innovative ‘Straight to Test’ upper gastrointestinal cancer assessment service is efficient, safe, and highly cost effective.”

MILTON KEYNES BRASS
Concert at Chrysalis Theatre
Saturday, 7.30pm
A CONCERT is being held on Saturday in support of relationship charity Relate MK.
Milton Keynes Brass, formerly Broseley Brass, is performing its first show under its new name, designed to better reflect the community it represents.

Concert goers are promised a rich and varied programme including world premiers and a superb guest soloist in the form of virtuoso flautist Jocelyn Campbell.
Money raised will help more couples to undergo relationship counselling, even if they can’t afford the full cost.
The concert will take place at the Chrysalis Theatre in Willen Park South at 7.30pm.

MK Brass is the region’s premier brass band.
Gwilym Roberts, centre manager for Relate MK, said, “Many people can’t afford the full cost of the services we offer. We’re so grateful to MK Brass for offering to support our family counselling services.”
Families are where people first learn about relationships. Their experiences shape their relationships throughout their lives.

Milton Keynes Brass chairman Dave Scott said: “Although the band itself is a registered charity it recognises that its services can be helpful to other institutions in attracting audiences to fundraising activities, so we are delighted on this occasion to be able to support Relate MK in this way.”
Tickets are £8 or £5 for concessions.

TOO MANY PEOPLE

Wet Wet Wet

TO be perfectly honest, I thought they’d gone the way of Brother Beyond but here they are, so I’m led to believe.

If you can imagine Jammiroqui getting locked in a room with Maroon 5 and being told they can’t come out until the two bands have thrashed out a song together, then you can hopefully imagine the outcome.

I can envisage two. One would be Jammiroqui moving heaven and earth to get the job done and be allowed out quick sharp, and the other would be this song. It’s the sort of laid-back disco funk-type stuff that Jammiroqui are known for, but with a few Maroon 5-riff tricks thrown in, if you like that sort of thing.

So anyway, remember when I said this didn’t sound like Wet Wet Wet? Well, that’s mainly because Marti Pellow doesn’t sound much like Marti Pellow – it’s like somebody’s sandpapered all the rough edges off his singing voice, which means that he sounds much better than he did before, which is nice, but there’s really not very much here that’s new and interesting so at least you’ll hear it on the radio.

AMAZING

Seal

I WAS wondering what the video to this one was like, so I tapped into YouTube and found myself watching a short film featuring an aquatic mammal twirling round and delighting onlookers. I should’ve expected that to be honest, but this song is almost as entertaining as that video.

It’s a good-old-fashioned pop song like he used to do when he was belting out decent tunes on The Tube rather than horrors like Kiss From A Rose. I’ll settle for that.

CALL THE SHOTS

Girls Aloud

SO here’s me in my glass house, and I’m chucking stones.

As my huge and loyal army of readers will no doubt both be aware, I can’t dance for taffies, but I’ve seen the video for this song and I’m sure Girls Aloud have been told what they’re doing is slow and seductive, but when they do their running-the-fingers-through-the-hair bit it reminds me of a L’Oreal advert.

Anyway, that’s not what I’m here for. I review songs, apparently.

The good news is that this is miles better than Sex! No No No was, although with a title like Call The Shots it’s never going to threaten its predecessor for the Most Gratuitous And Excessive Use Of Punctuation in A Single Title Of The Year award, although on the bright side I think Girls Aloud have got that one sewn up already.

While their last single was all over the place musically, lyrically and probably something else ending with ically, this one sticks to the old-fashioned ideas of coming up with a tune and then not trying anything cleverer with it.

This time round you can actually tell which bits are the verses and which are the choruses.

See, bands like Radichead get away with doing mad stuff because they think about what they’re doing, but for some reason when Girls Aloud do it it feels a bit on the ‘committee decision’ side.

As pop singles go, this one isn’t half bad as it turns out. It’s not one of their very best singles, but it’s by no means their worst, not so long as efforts like I’ll Stand By You remain available to purchase.

ROMANTIC COMEDY
November 19-24
STAGE and screen legend Tom Conti stars in this hilarious comedy about love, marriage and fate. His character Jason Carmichael is a dash- ing and witty Broadway playwright who has just met the love of his life – on the day of his wed- ding to someone else. Ideal for anyone who has ever fallen in love.

THE LIFE AND ADVENTURES OF NICHOLAS NICKELBY
Parts 1 and 2
November 27 - December 1
DAVID Edgar’s extraordinary two-part adapta- tion of Dickens’s great comic masterpiece became a landmark production on its ISC pre- miere. Performed by 27 actors, this new version is presented across two performances, creating an experience of rare scope and genuine scale – a unique theatrical event not to be missed.

ADAM CROW
A CLEAR candidate for the title of this week’s comedian, Adam Crow has been described by Ricky Gervais as ‘really funny’ and is a favourite of such diverse luminaries as Griff Rhys Jones, Gloria Hatmifed and Jo Fox.

Equally at home as a com- edian, Adam will be equally familiar for his dexteri- ty on TV in such varied pro- ductions as The Dream Team (Sky One), Casualty (BBC1), Touch the Spade (BBC2), The Bill (ITV) and The Real Dating Show (Channel 4) to name but a few.

SUSAN MURRAY
This Black Country lass takes no prisoners with her irrever- ent and honest humour. She’ll have you laughing well into the next millennium with her razor sharp cynicism. Funny, cheeky in your face and sometimes surreal, yet always a bit twisted.

Winner of the first ever Jongleurs competition and a seasoned regular on the circuit, Susan has emerged as one of the best female stand- ups around.

THE RAYMOND & MR TIMPKINS REVUE
THE charismatically-chal- lenging uncle and mute nephew operate that is the Raymond and Mr Timpkins Revue simply has to be seen to be believed.

It is simply one of the funni- est acts of the past 10 years. Combining inimitable acoustic guitar and stylo- phone driven rock anthems with a plethora of prop-assist- ed material and some serial wordplay that would put Stephen Fry to shame, it comes together to create a comic masterpiece.

Together since 1992, their highly original performance approach has made them a rite of passage for students and established them as veter- ans of Edinburgh, Glastonbury, Phoenix and Reading festivals.

AUTUMN is upon us, evenings are drawing in and the frosts have started. Trees are at their glorious autumn best just before leaf fall. The flowering cherries, acers, liquidambers and ash are shimmering reds, oranges and purple. Autumn shrubs like Nandina, Gauhteria, Leucothea and Callicarpa make up for what they lack in flower with their vivid leaves and berries.

I like to use some small versions of these shrubs to make up planted tubs and hanging baskets in which I call 'Christmas colours', (red, green and white). They are fairly simple to make but look very effective.

The red can either be a berried pernetiya (gaultheria), pansy or miracle cyclamen. Greens are evergreen ferns, ivies, eunymous and hellebore foliage, and the whites, again cyclamen, hellebores and pansies.

Lead-effect planters look striking with these mixes, and either a moss lined basket or natural willow basket looks best. Don’t forget that you plant up at this time of year the plants will not grow as much as in the summer, so really squash them in to get a full effect.

It's fun to under plant with a few crocuses, narcissi or dwarf tulips for a surprise in the spring. These planters should keep going until March.

JOBS FOR NOVEMBER

- You may get one last cut of the lawn before stowing the mower for winter.
- You can use your autumn lawn feed to help form strong roots for next year.
- Move tender plants into a greenhouse or conservatory. Fleece vulnerable or exposed plants.
- Water unheated greenhouses with bubble wrap.
- Finish planting spring bulbs. If you aren’t sure where to plant them, plant them in pond baskets then you can just sink these into the ground when you decide.
- Clean algae off paths.
- Put away barbecues and cover patio furniture.

Bella Italia

The Italian dining experience

Believe it or not, we have a new Italian restaurant in town – Bella Italia at Roman Way. The menu is traditional Italian with a modern twist.

I had the mascarpone cheesecake (£4.55) which was dense and creamy and covered in chocolate sauce, fresh cream and ice cream with chocolate crunch, a fantastic way to end a wonderful meal.

Aries (March 21-April 19)

Liberation is the key to establishing harmony in your relationships and you may have to ease others into a situation in order to gain their agreement. Call My Horoscope and ask for Aries to hear how you can get your friends and family to work together despite some difficulties this week.

Libra (September 23-October 22)

Try to build up your hopes too high about anything you are involved in, as the emphasis this week will be on the need to moderate your enthusiasm a little. Expect the unexpected and, with a little thought and planning, you can have a fun week.

Scorpio (October 23-November 21)

Some thoughts and ideas you have now are private and should be held secret. Some people over the next few days may try to draw you into using your powers for their own ends and if it all goes wrong you may be disappointed in the results.

Sagittarius (November 22-December 21)

It is generally a good time to work on your own creative projects. If there is an opportunity to act on something this week you should take it, as it may well pay dividends in the future.

Capricorn (December 22-January 19)

Your approach to the friendly and cooperative social front will ensure that you have a good social time. Activities and social events offer plenty of opportunities to get involved in something fun. If there is any chance of going out and about with a friend this week, do take this opportunity.

Aquarius (January 20-February 18)

There is no stopping on the social scene and you are bound to have a few enjoyable moments in the coming days. Some spontaneous decisions will be made this week and you may have to go with the flow and relax in order to enjoy all that you are doing.

Pisces (February 19-March 20)

Although there are few plans in store for you, there are plenty of opportunities to enjoy the company of friends and have a few laughs. This will be as much fun for you as for others this week.

Bellway Homes offer affordability at
The Observatory in Oakley Vale

House builder Bellway is taking a head-on approach to the affordability crisis by launching a new home purchase scheme called Opening Doors. Bellway will offer customers the chance to buy a new home for 75% of the current market value at The Observatory in Oakley Vale.

As an example Opening Doors will enable a purchaser to buy a new £250,000 home today for the cost of interest payable on a £187,500 home. Payment of interests on the remaining 25% is deferred for three years and is treated as an equity loan charged at the low interest rate of 3%.

Commenting on the scheme, Doreen Pate, Sales and Marketing Director at Bellway, said: “We have looked very carefully at how we can improve the financial situation for new home buyers.

Opening Doors is unique in the way that it provides 100% ownership but reduces the cost of borrowing in the early years when most new home owners are more financially stretched.”

Opening Doors is available on a selected number of properties at the Observatory development in Corby. A two bedroom home priced at £128,500 will set you back just £96,375 through Bellway’s initiative, a three bedroom home at £146,000 will cost just £109,500 while for those wanting to trade up to a four bedroom house at £180,000, the purchaser would pay £135,000.

Oakley Vale is fast becoming the new property hotspot. Located in the Northamptonshire countryside of Rockingham Forest, the development has excellent road links via the A14 to the M1, M6 and A1 making commuting to the major cities easy. Commuters to London can choose from Kettering Station, just 6 miles away, for a regular train service London Euston Station, or equally frequent from Northampton Station to Euston Station and St Pancras Station. In 2008 a new intercity rail link will be re-established in Corby making Oakley Vale even more accessible.

Oakley Vale has an abundance of open green spaces and a man-made lake with an attractive water cascade. It is convenient too as, adjacent to the development is a large supermarket and the new village contains a new parade of shops, a pub and restaurant. September 2008 will also see the opening of the first primary school in the new village.

Bellway Northern Home Counties Sales Director, Chris Edginton, said: “Corby is only an hour away by train via Kettering or Wellingborough from London, and Northamptonshire provides superior choice for businesses, visitors and residents alike. The area is surrounded by beautiful countryside, a rich tradition and heritage and charming stone village. The vast rural landscape is ‘quintessentially English’ and brimming with character”.

Ask about the schemes available to help you move to The Observatory. The showhome is available to view 7 days a week, from 10am to 5pm, telephone 01536 747958 for further information or visit www.bellway.co.uk

Pinnacle tops businesses’ ‘prestigious’ premises list

WHEN selecting new office premises in Milton Keynes, renowned international companies Deloitte & Touche LLP and Denton Wilde Sapte LLP had one fundamental word on their mind – ‘prestigious’.

Milton Keynes’ newest and largest office development for more than 25 years – The Pinnacle – currently under construction by developer Hampton Brook, is synonymous with this requirement and it is therefore no surprise that both companies agreed to take space before construction had even got off the ground.

Ian Jackson, a director of Hampton Brook, said: “The Pinnacle CMK has been designed to set a standard only matched by office buildings in the Capital - in terms of quality, as well as adopting energy efficient design techniques and technologies - and we are of course delighted to have Deloitte & Touche and Denton Wilde Sapte committed to this 200,000 sq ft landmark building at such an early stage. It is equally rewarding to understand their reasoning behind the decision and for their vision of layout, design, facilities as well as looks to complement our own.”

Deloitte & Touche has a long established presence in Central Milton Keynes and Bob Warburton, managing partner finance and legal for Deloitte & Touche, said: “We welcome the opportunity to take a significant amount of space in the prestigious development at The Pinnacle. This will provide excellent accommodation for the Shared Services Centre which delivers key infrastructure support to the UK operation of Deloitte. We have worked with Hampton Brook to accommodate our specific requirements for generous floor plates in this landmark building and look forward to our continuing relationship with Hampton Brook in the delivery of the first class facilities for our people.”

Hampton Brook is constructing The Pinnacle – a £60m inward investment – in a joint venture partnership with clients of Goodman Property Investors following the site purchase from English Partnerships. Completion is scheduled for May 2009. The Pinnacle CMK has been designed to achieve a BRE energy efficient ‘excellence’ rating, and by adopting design techniques and technologies it will provide for the effective management of energy.

Further opportunities to acquire space at the early stages of marketing are available in suites from approximately 10,000 sq ft upwards. The joint letting agents are Bidwells, tel: 01908 202190 and CBRE, tel: 0207 182 2229.
Christmas award for thecentre:mk

AS the centre:mk opened its Christmas display yesterday it was aptly celebrating the wins of the International Council of Shopping Centre’s Silver Maxi Award for last year.

Back in July thecentre:mk won a Purple Apple marketing award through the British Council of Shopping Centres (BCSC) for the Believe in the Magic marketing campaign from its Peter Pan Christmas Show.

This win resulted in an automatic qualification into the International Council of Shopping Centre’s (ICSC) for thecentre:mk receiving the International Council of Shopping Centre’s Silver Maxi Award ceremony in New Orleans – a fortnight ago – where she received the award.

She said: “The campaign ran for just over eight weeks and it was highly effective.”

The result was a measurable increase in visitation to thecentre:mk, an increase in sales at the end of a challenging year for retailers, plus a record breaking charity donation to the beneficiaries of the Wishing Pool.

There was also immeasurable positive feedback from visitors to thecentre:mk.

New Fiat's price puts it ahead of the chasing pack

MOTORISTS are eagerly awaiting the new Fiat 500, which goes on sale here in the New Year.

With a starting price of just £7,900 OTR, the new Fiat 500 represents outstanding value for money and positions the car well below its benchmark rivals.

At the top end of the range, a highly specified version with a larger engine costs only £10,700 – an OTR price that includes air conditioning and alloy wheels as standard.

Available with a choice of three frugal, ultra-low emissions, Euro 5-ready engines: 69 bhp 1.2-litre and 100 bhp 1.4-litre petrol, or 75 bhp 1.3-litre MultiJet turbodiesel, the new Fiat 500 can be ordered in three different trim levels – Pop, Sport and Lounge.

Standard equipment in the entry-level Pop includes ABS anti-lock brakes with EBD, driver, passenger, side and driver's knee airbags, radio/CD/MP3 player, power steering, electric mirrors, colour coded bumpers and chrome-plated door handles. The extensive options list includes ESP, glass sunroof, metallic paint and parking sensors.

Sport and Lounge versions start at £9,300, while specifying a larger engine in any trim level adds £1,400. Standard equipment on both Sport and Lounge versions includes the Blue & MeTM hands-free media system, air conditioning and 15-inch alloy wheels. Sport specification includes a rear roof spoiler, fog lights, sports interior and dark tinted rear windows, while Lounge trim includes a split, folding rear seat and fixed glass roof.

The simple pricing structure means that any combination of car is possible – customers simply start with a 1.2 Pop and add £1,400 for a more powerful engine, £1,400 for a higher trim level, or £2,800 for any combination of both. A huge list of style options – created specifically to offer customers wide-ranging opportunities for personalising the interior and exterior of their vehicles – is also available.

Buckingham Ford salesmen listen before they speak.

When you visit Buckingham Ford's showroom, you won't have some oily motormouth salesman talking your ears off, pretending to be your friend, pressuring you into buying or making you feel intimidated into making a purchase. Our salesmen don't earn commission; but they, and all our staff, earn the respect of our customers:

"Just to say thank you for all your help. I have always had great customer service from everyone at Buckingham Ford."

Miss K

"Thank you for all the help you have gave me regarding the car, which we both like very much."

Mrs D

So when and only when you need our help, we're ready to assist, in a friendly and courteous manner. We take the time to understand your motoring needs. Whether it's buying a new or used car or booking servicing and repairs, there's no hassle. And if you don't see what you're looking for, we'll do our best to find it for you. You can come in for a test drive with Kevin Church or James Emmitt, or just a coffee and a chat about how Buckingham Ford can ensure you enjoy happy motoring.

Most car dealers don't know when to shut up.

First with The Dons Match Report

Wycombe Wanderers v MK Dons Saturday, November 3

Keith Andrews, Aaron Wilbraham, Mark Wright and Colin Cameron celebrate the MK Dons goal.

New dad delivers for depleted Dons

By Simone Corgan

A BRILLIANT defensive half-hour display from nine man MK Dons saw off wave after wave of Wycombe attack to hold out for a 1-1 draw.

Derby days are always meant to have a bit of fire to them and after the latest Buckinghamshire head-to-head future meetings will certainly have some way to go to match the drama.

Two red cards, a missed penalty and two well taken goals ensured honours were even after a gruelling 90 minutes, but the Dons were the ones who left the pitch feeling like they had taken all three points.

Controversially, losing skipper Keith Andrews for a deliberate handball was a blow, the resulting penalty being saved by Willy Gueret felt like just deserts, but when Lloyd Dyer was sent for an early shower a minute later following a clumsy challenge, travelling fans would have been forgiven for thinking the writing was on the wall.

Thirty minutes left to hold out away from home was a massive challenge for Paul Ince’s side and it was one they rose up to, with their fans at the opposite end signing throughout to help them along, they put their bodies on the line to keep that all important point.

In a scrappy first half Wycombe took the lead, against the run of play, with Matt Bloomfield on the hour mark.

The Dons had Gueret to thank again and MK Dons will need to overcome League One outfit Crewe Alexandra if they are to progress through to the next round.

Créve Alexandra

The Railwaymen had a difficult spell at the start of the season but have picked up a lot of points from their past three games.

While the Dons have hit their own tough patch although they have still taken four points from their three matches.

However, league form counts for nothing in the FA Cup and there is always potential for an upset. Something the Dons know only too well, last year it took a first round replay to beat Conference North outfit Farsley Celtic.

This time round the Dons will have the unfamiliar underdogs tag travelling to Gresty Road, and they will be without winger Lloyd Dyer as he serves the second of his three match ban.

The Dons claimed their place in the quarter-finals with a convincing 3-1 win over Peterborough United, after having a man in the first half, while Bournemouth overcame Walsall and Bristol Rovers.

If the scores are tied at the end of ninety minutes the match will be decided by penalties, there is no extra time.

View from the Mobcamp

Paul Ince was named October’s Manager of the Month for League Two.

The Dons boss was given the accolade after guiding his side to four victories from five league games and to the top of the table.

Chairman of the Manager of the Month Awards panel, Chris Kamara, said: “Paul Ince’s MK Dons have been on a terrific run of form this season, with four wins from five emphasising how consistent they have still taken four points from their three matches.

Paul Ince was named October’s Manager of the Month for League Two.

The Dons boss was given the accolade after guiding his side to four victories from five league games and to the top of the table.

Chairman of the Manager of the Month Awards panel, Chris Kamara, said: “Paul Ince’s MK Dons have been on a terrific run of form this season, with four wins from five emphasising how consistent they have still taken four points from their three matches.

However, league form counts for nothing in the FA Cup and there is always potential for an upset. Something the Dons know only too well, last year it took a first round replay to beat Conference North outfit Farsley Celtic.

This time round the Dons will have the unfamiliar underdogs tag travelling to Gresty Road, and they will be without winger Lloyd Dyer as he serves the second of his three match ban.

Olympians fall in Denmark
BADMINTON duo Gail Emms and Nathan Roberts suffered heartache in the Danish Open and the French Open last week. They lost to He Hanbin and Yu Yang in the Denmark Open and the French Opens. But they are well placed to qualify for the circuit’s Masters finals.

Nick Croussell opened the Bletchley attacking threat. He followed some neat work from Carl Miller and Paul Evans and Phil Harman stepped up to add the conversion.

Swanage came straight back when their winger dived over for an uncontested try before another attempted kick was charged down and Swanage were 12-7 ahead.

Perez visited the fracture clinic for an assessment of his shoulder injury.

Braun is regarded as one of the best technical directors on the circuit and should he turn up in Milton Keynes, he could form a strong, but expensive, partnership with chief technical officer Adrian Newey.

Team principal Christian Horner strongly denied the rumours, claiming the side were settling with their current drivers.

He said: “We are flattered that Fernando Alonso apparently considers Red Bull Racing viable option for a race seat. It is a clear indication of the progress we have made over the past twelve months. However, we have contracts in place for 2008 with both our current drivers, David Coulthard and Mark Webber.”

For all their possession Lightning were leading 1-0 at the end of the first through Skinner’s opener before Nick Poole put an end to their threat.

Nicky Watt pulled the Raiders level early in the second period but Mk soon started flying with four goals in the second with two coming from Clarke while Poole and Adam Carr were also at hand to add to the score-line.

The linder of the match Michael Wales joined in with a goal at the start of the final period before Skinner and Parez pulled off a convincing win for Lighting.

Upwards of 2000 spectators (shoulder) and Greg Randall (fracturedibia) are set to be back in action sooner than originally anticipated. We are looking at perhaps 6-5 weeks for both players instead of 6-8.

Lightning turn their focus back to the league this weekend when they take on Peterborough this Saturday at home with face-off at 7pm. On Sunday they travel to Telford for a 5.30pm face-off.

BRAVE Bletchley performance saw them hold out for a 24-24 draw with second placed Swanneag and Waremie in the South West Two East division.

Reducing the risk of infection in hospital

What you can do to help

The publicity about hospital-acquired infection has caused a great deal of concern across the country. The ICNA (Infection Control Nurses Association) has seen an increase in the number of enquiries from members of the public to ask what they can do to help reduce their risk of acquiring an infection while they are in hospital as patients, or while they are visiting friends and relatives in hospital.

In response to these requests here are a few tips, taken from The Saxon Clinic’s patient information leaflet, on how you and your visitors can help reduce the risk.

- Keeping your hands and body clean are important when you are in hospital. Take personal toiletries including soap and a clean flannel with you
- Taking a container of moist hand-wipes with you will ensure you always have some available when you need to clean your hands
- Gentlemen should take their own razor with them so they can shave, rather than rely on one being provided for them
- Ensure you always wash your hands after using the toilet
- If you use a commode, ask for a bowl of water to wash your hands, or use a moist hand-wipe afterwards. At The Saxon Clinic we routinely offer a hand-wipe after someone has used the commode or bedpan
- Always wash your hands or clean them with a hand-wipe immediately before you eat a meal
- The Saxon Clinic provides a moist hand-wipe on your meal tray, but often patients use them after they have eaten. Use it at the start of your meal to ensure your hands are clean before you eat
- Hospital staff can help protect you by washing their hands, or by cleaning them with special alcohol rubs or gels. If a member of staff needs to examine you or perform a procedure, do not be afraid to ask if they have first washed their hands or used an alcohol rub or gel
- Always wear something on your feet when walking around in hospital. A comfortable pair of slippers is fine, but do make sure they have some grip on the bottom
- Please encourage your visitors to make use of the alcohol hand gel provided, before they visit you and when they leave
- The area around your bed should be cleaned regularly. If you or your visitors see something that has been missed during cleaning, do report it to the nurse in charge and request it is cleaned
- If you use a commode, ask for a bowl of water to wash your hands, or use a moist hand-wipe afterwards. At The Saxon Clinic we routinely offer a hand-wipe after someone has used the commode or bedpan
- Try to keep the top of your locker and bed table reasonably free from clutter. Too many things left on top make it more difficult for the Housekeeping staff to clean these items properly
- Every hospital, including The Saxon Clinic, has its own infection control policy in place. To find out more about how the hospital you visit deals with infection control, all you need do is ask a member of staff.

Dons make small fry of Grimsby

BY SIMONE CORGAN

A DOMINANT MK Dons performance saw them beat Grimsby Town 2-0 and move four points clear at the top of the table.

It could have been much worse for the Mariners as the Dons had a tight grip on the match throughout and started in fine fashion with the first goal coming from Aaron Wilbraham after just 23 seconds.

Mark Wright completed the scoring four minutes before the interval and they could have increased their lead several times in the second half.

The result keeps Grimsby in a scrap at the wrong end of the table and comes a year ago to the day since Graham Rodger was sacked as the Mariners coach, ironically following a 3-1 defeat at the hands of the Dons.

Dons made small fry of Grimsby

MK upped their hunt for a second goal coming from Aaron Wilbraham after just 23 seconds.

Phil Barnes pulled off a good save to stop Sean O’Hanlon from heading in the Mariners’ box, but Colin Cameron hit his spot-kick against the post.

Grimsby struggled to keep up with the Dons throughout the game and never appeared to pose any real threat up front.

Andy Taylor could have grabbed a late consolation for the visitors when he burst into the box, but Willy Gueret stayed composed to collect in the dying minutes.

But moments later they had the opportunity to add to the scoreline when Wright somehow poked Johnson’s cross wide of the far post.

Grimsby were desperately searching for a goal of their own, but every time they edged into the Dons half they seemed to lose possession and send the Dons back on their own attack.

Grimbsy were rocked from the offset when their hesitant kick-off allowed the Dons straight at goal, an opportunity that needed no second invitation as Leon Knight whipped in a pin-point cross for Wilbraham before falling at the feet of Wright.

The Dons could have extended their grip on the match throughout and bringing down Johnson outside the box.

Grimsby were desperately searching for a goal of their own, but every time they edged into the Dons half they seemed to lose possession and send the Dons back on their own attack.

Wilbraham was once again demonstrating his range of qualities as he skimmed passed Hegarty and Newey to play Gallen through to goal.
